Prices opened slightly lower, declined about ic early, reacted ic later, and by noon the pit was partly deserted and the market at a standstill. At this point, as elsewhere, outside trade was very light. Sales ranged: July, Slige Slige, down to Slc, up to Slige. Matters looked bearish in the corn pit until near the close. Receipts were over 50 cars short of the estimates this morning, but prices declined ic early. When the "shorts" found the market stubborn and started to cover, there was little for sale. The price at case went up several points, and the closing was firm, about lie over the bottom price, and to better than last night. June sold at 49c and 50c. July started at 50c, sold at 49c, and closed at 10 a. Trading was more active in oats. July delivery was raided early in the day, being offered freely at steadily declining prices until there was lightle break from yesterday's close. The general offerings were quite moderate, and after certain large operators ceased offering to to sell, the market recovered and advanced, amid many changes, to lightle above the inside, and finally elected only is lower, at 31 is for July. Provisions were quieter, trading being entirely of a scalping nature. A weaker feeling prevailed, and the last sales were at a net decline of 7 is on park. Me on larg, and 02 is on short ribs. Lard was relatively the weakest market. The shipping demand has fallen off and the market had little support, and, were holders disposed to offer their property freely, a shade decline would have resulted. June broke .05c on 250 tieress. INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. A Summer Dullness Manifesting Itself, with a Steady Tone to Prices.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 19. In most departments the trade movement is quiet, the produce markets being about the only exception. Eggs, while not quotably lower, are tending downward, so extremely warm is the weather. Choice butter is in good request and firm in price. Young chickens are wanted at quotations, the receipts not being sufficient to supply the home demand. Old potatoes are off the market; new ones coming in quite freely, with a firmer tone to prices than last week.

Peaches of respectable size and really good fruit are beginning to come onto the market, and are selling at 75 cents for one-third bushel boxes. Strawberries are in fair supply and steady at quotations. The de-mand is slacking somewhat. Black and red raspberries in light supply and selling at good prices. New apples of quite reselling at good prices. New apples of quite respectable size are coming in this week and sell at 35 to 40 cents per box. Dry goods men report trade quiet. There are numerous orders, but calling for small amounts to replenish broken stocks. Grocers are moderately busy. Prices firm. It is conceded to be the dull period of the year in groceries, and this, coupled with a sort of extra caution to which all buyers seem to have become allied this season, precludes the hope of much positive animation. Sugars are firm at quotations, and the same is true of coffees. Holders of Brazils are feeling somewhat more Holders of Brazils are feeling somewhat more hopeful over the prospect for the market. As noted since the commencement of the week, there is scarcely a doubt that the country wants considerable stock, with necessity daily growing more urgent, and some of the important country custom giving almost a positive assurance that just as soon as there is a guarantee of no forther violent disturbance by the speculative

The wheat sit-uation is very sick. The mills have all ceased running, and millers are pressing sales with what stocks they have on hand, while buyers are very timid, and are slow purchasers. Even choice grades find poor sale and are not wanted. Corn is dull, weak and lower; in no demand, with free sellers. Dealers complain freely as to the difficulty of selling even No. 1 and No. 2 grades. Oats, like wheat and corn, are dull and in poor request. City demand well supplied.
